Lois P. Frankel, Ph.D.

“My driving desire is to help facilitate significant and enduring change in the lives of those I’m privileged to serve.”

Although CCI founder and CEO, Dr. Lois Frankel, no longer provides one-on-one coaching, she continues to make an impact through her keynotes, books, and leadership training programs for women. She literally wrote the book on how to succeed in businesses large and small around the globe. Her first book, Stop Sabotaging Your Career, a must-read for both men and women, was called “the best unsung business book of the year” by Fast Company magazine. Following this, Nice Girls Don’t Get The Corner Office, Nice Girls Don’t Get Rich, and Nice Girls Just Don’t Get It became international bestsellers translated into over twenty-five languages. See Jane Lead, furthers the premise that women make natural leaders for our time and explains how to harness your own leadership talent.

Dr. Frankel and her books have been featured on the TODAY Show, 20/20, Larry King Live, CNN and CNBC, in the New York Times, USA Today, and in People and Time Magazines. BusinessWeek named Corner Office one of the top ten business books of the year. ABC Television purchased the rights to it for a comedy series and developed a pilot starring Jane Curtin, Jayma Mayes, Kathryn Hayes and Gregory Itzin that can be seen on YouTube.

Combining her experience in human resources at a Fortune 10 oil company with a Ph.D. in Psychology from the University of Southern California, Dr. Frankel became a pioneer in the field of business coaching developing models that others continue to emulate. For the past two decades her unique formula and hand-selected coaching team has helped thousands of people to create winning strategies to achieve superior career success and business goals. Her client list reads like a who’s who of multinational corporations, including Amgen, British Petroleum, GE, KPMG, Ernst & Young, Procter & Gamble, MasterCard, Microsoft, Warner Bros., The Walt Disney Company and Goldman Sachs to name just a few of the hundreds of companies that have invited her back time and again.

Sought-after as a public speaker for her witty, warm and practical presentations that simultaneously engage, educate and entertain, Dr. Frankel is among the top names of international speakers and has spoken to groups of men and women on six continents. She is also featured on-line as an AOL Business Coach and known in Southern California for her “Eye on Your Career” segment on KNX 1070.
