Tom Henschel

“My core belief is that clear, direct communication creates unexpected opportunities. I help people get their messages heard.”

Tom is a founding member of Corporate Coaching International specializing in communication skills. He has helped executives achieve The Look and Sound of Leadership through one-on-one coaching at companies such as Amgen, Toyota, Lockheed Martin and Twentieth Century Fox. In addition to helping executives develop their presence, he has trained groups in presentation and communication skills at such diverse businesses as the Ken Blanchard Companies, the Federal Reserve Bank, and NBC Universal. Originally trained as a classical actor at The Juilliard School, Tom appeared in over one hundred plays, episodes of television and movies. As a director in theatre, plays under his direction garnered eighteen critics' awards, including five for Best Director. Tom is proud to have served as President of the American Society for Training and Development, Los Angeles Chapter.
